

How would you rate the FLOW OF TRAFFIC, the spacing of the room?

The traffic was not bad it was pretty good because many people could get trough the desks but when we line up it was kinda of crowded cause there were tables by the door but other then that it was pretty good

Because ever things spread a part

The tables are spaced out nicely.

The back I really tight And does not have a lot of space and same as the front

The tables are spreaded out so you can move around.

The back was really tight and the front was tight and open at the same time 😊

Some of the places are hard to get around .

It was good because there was no traffic

Because you can get your space

I like how the spacing is at the front and middle but take out a haxagon table then there will be more space

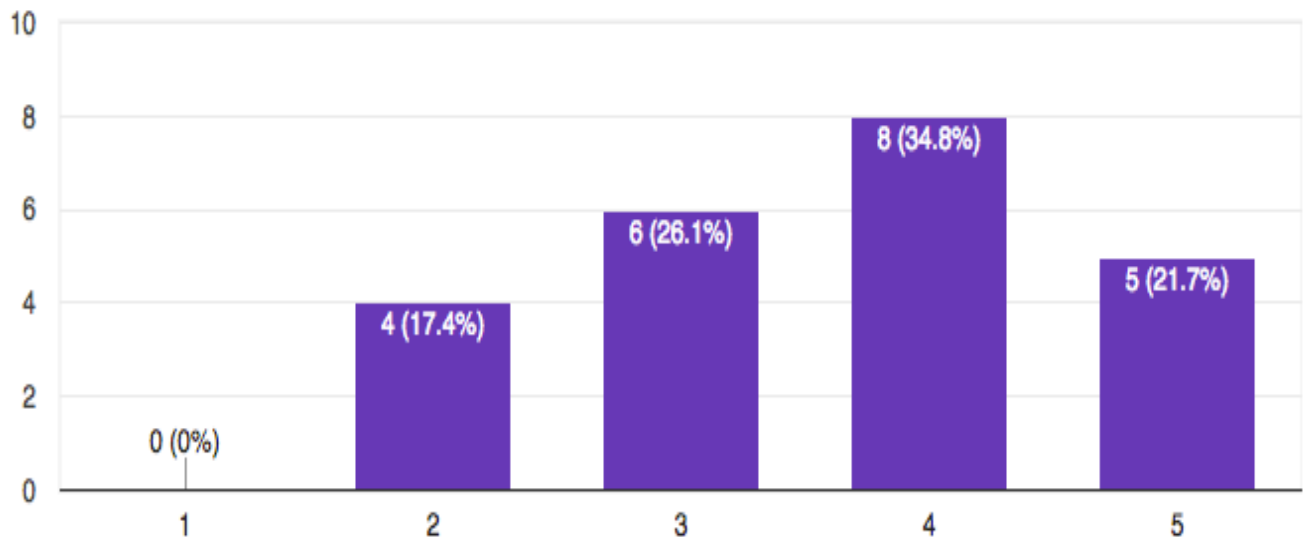

In one corner it is super crowded, and I don't really like that. That is why I chose that number.

The desk are in the way but it is not to close it is kinda sored out so we can walk through and it won't be crowded.

How would you rate the PURPOSE of the placement of furniture? Are there good reasons for the layout of the room?

Everything is good but no space to sit by your own (2)

I like how they put the carpet at the back and I like how the hex table close to each other (2)

I like that the hexagon tables aren't together because to many people will be there and they'll talk.

Some of the room is to ckeraed

Bit random but other than that it was a good design

I like how some of the big tables are in the back and I like the high table in the back too, cause if the high table was in the front no one could see the front from the back.□

Because they were in good spots and there was enough tables

Because the cushion logs are at the end by the white board so if you sit you can't see

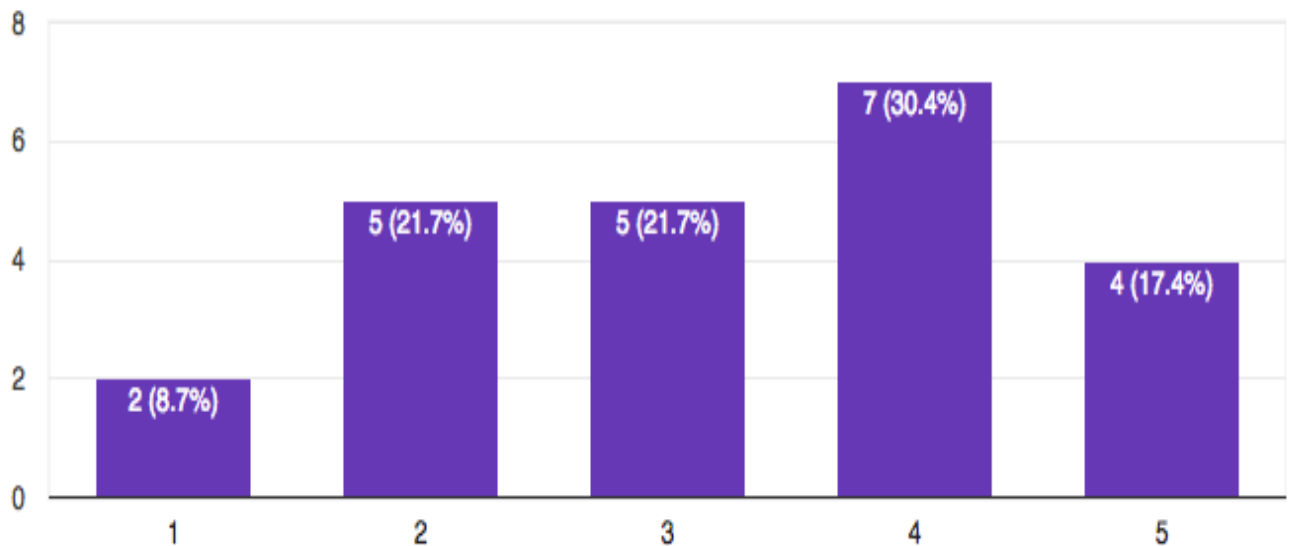

I Think everything is in a good place and spacing is good.

The furniture was actually pretty good because they were set in the right place and no one would trip on the furniture

Because you can't see the blackboard from the carpet

How would you rate the space for a BALANCE of group work, alone work and more variety for different learners?

Because we had no assigned seating so people get to pick where they sit

The only spot is the cushion logs where you hit your head but it's still comfortable

I like when everyone can work whenever they want weather group or alone.

I would say that there was only one place to work alone and that desk was the high table because the moon table was miss. Kadeys desk and Mr. Turners desk so the high table was the only spot you could work alone other wise all the other tables were group desks or partner desks

There are a lot of quiet and loude spots

There is plenty of space to do lots of things.

I like to work in the hall more than in the class room because all the tables are squished together

I think the balance in the room is pretty good I not saying it bad but I not saying it's the best.

I like to work in hall because it is quite the desk where to scwished so it loud 😞

Every desk is close to each other
