

Superintendent Design Team

Instructional Design, Assessment and Collaboration

What stands out as important?

What surprises you?

Thinking of your own school, where do you see areas of strength?

Thinking of your own school, where do you see opportunities for growth?

What does this tell us about instructional design, assessment and collaboration?

Reflecting on the analysis and findings, what questions should we be exploring in our context?

